

WARSHIP IOWA GOES TO PANAMA

Situation of the Revolution in Central America is Critical.

DESIGN OF CASTRO

His Idea is to Unite Three States to Control the Big Canal.

UNCLE SAM IS ALERT

Washington, Aug. 17.—The navy department has ordered the battleship Iowa to proceed at once from San Francisco to Panama. She has on board 455 sailors, sixty marines and fifteen officers.

Washington, Aug. 17.—Secretary Hay has finally awakened the navy department to a sense of the gravity of the situation that exists on the isthmus of Panama. Late last evening Acting Secretary Hackett pre-sion at 6:15 o'clock yesterday morning and left there a bouncing girl baby. The governor was away at Bardonia. This is the first baby born in the executive mansion since the Buckner administration.

BOY FAILS TO SAVE MOTHER.

Child's Heroism, However, Prevents Death of Others at a Fire.
Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 17.—The home of Nathan Barber, Prospect Park, was burned today and Mrs. Barber so badly burned that she died at Asbury hospital several hours later. But for the heroic work of her 16-year-old son King Mrs. Barber would have perished in the flames, and her two children, aged 5 and 7 years, might have met a like fate. The boy carried all three out of the building, but his mother had already been fatally burned.

POLICE TRAP A NOTED FORGER; FUGITIVE GERMAN IS CAPTURED

Gebhardt Terlinden Runs Away from Germany Short 1,500,000 Marks—Gained Upon an Issue of Forged Certificates—Peculations Enormous.

Chicago, Aug. 17.—With a price of 6,000 marks upon his head Gerhardt Terlinden of Oberhausen, Rheinland, Germany, was brought back to Chicago from Milwaukee at 6 o'clock last night by a United States deputy marshal and Henry Vocke, attorney for the German consul in this city. Extradition papers will be issued for his return to Germany on the charge of forgery and counterfeiting to the extent of 1,500,000 marks. Meanwhile he is in the county jail.
Terlinden was arrested in Milwaukee yesterday afternoon by I. Steffel, assistant superintendent of the Pinkerton detective agency, and several city detectives. In two Milwaukee banks was found $11,000 which Terlinden had on deposit and $6,000 was discovered in Chicago banks. The man's captors expect to get the reward offered by the German government for the arrest.
Terlinden is about 41 years of age and has the appearance of a well-to-do and educated man. He left a wife and son in Germany. He was at the head of a huge manufacturing concern employing 3,000 men. He is charged with having forged certificates of stock in this corporation and with having counterfeited government stamps to be attached to the certificates.
The disappearance of Terlinden was a sensation in Germany. Later developments increased the interest until it grew to be one of the celebrated cases. It became known that he had embarked for America. The Pinkertons were employed on the case and ever since his landing he has been an object of their search.

BANISHMENT IN FAVOR.

Commons Stands by Chamberlain in Defense of Proclamation.

New York, Aug. 17.—Concerning the effect of the discussion in the house of commons of the latest South African situation, the London representative of this Tribune cables:

Mr. Chamberlain carried the house of commons with him in his defense of Lord Kitchener's banishment proclamation. It seems clear that the British government is determined that Sept. 15 shall mark the beginning of the resumption of something like civil authority in South Africa.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt endeavored to contend that the terms of the proclamation involved the destruction of the belligerent rights of the Boers in the field, but Mr. Chamberlain pointed out that those rights will be withdrawn only if the present Boer operations degenerate into mere plunder.

French Wheat Crop Short.

Paris, Aug. 17.—"The French wheat situation is very different now from what it was several weeks ago, when were issued the official estimates from this chamber," said E. M. Green, secretary of the American chamber of commerce in Paris, this morning to the correspondent of the Daily News. "Since then continuous rains have hurt the crop more than did the preceding cool weather. In short, in France the agricultural districts have had every kind of weather except sun, and sunshine was what was particularly needed. It is impossible to approximate definite figures regarding the crop until the thrashing operations which are now going on throughout the country are finished, but I am ready to say that my estimate of 304,000,000 bushels is far from the over-short mark."

Source of Globe's Trouble.

London, Aug. 17.—It is said that the articles for which the editor and publisher of the Globe of this city have been summoned to appear at the bar of the house of commons this afternoon, were written by Viscount Mountmorres, whose father was the victim of an agrarian outrage a score of years ago.

TO FEED OIL TO MOSQUITOES.

Jersey Board of Health to Attack the State's Great Pest.

New York, Aug. 17.—The board of health of Montclair, N. J., has given the authorities power to purchase oil to begin the work of exterminating mosquitoes. The stagnant pools and swamp lands will be attacked first. The plan adopted by Professor Howard in South Orange, of pouring the oil on the surface of the water, will be adopted.

Big Four Train Wrecked.

Anderson, Ind., Aug. 17.—Train No. 36 on the Big Four, east-bound, was wrecked at 5 o'clock a. m. at Raleigh, one mile west of Pendleton. The train, which consisted of two mail cars, one baggage combination and day coach and two sleepers, was running fifty miles an hour. The only person injured was Fireman Lilly. The train carried seventy passengers.

Sentenced in Three Minutes.

Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 17.—The negro Monroe, who yesterday confessed to attacking a white woman, was tried today and sentenced to be hanged Sept. 13. The jury was out less than three minutes. A company of local militia was ordered out late last night to protect the prisoner from a threatened lynching.

Daughter Comes to Governor.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 17.—The stork visited Gov. Beckham's mansion at 8:15 this morning and left a fine girl. The governor was away at Bardonia. This is the first baby born in the executive mansion since the Buckner administration.

Ex-Gov. Stone Is Better.

Louis, Mo., Aug. 17.—Ex-Gov. William J. Stone, vice-chairman of the Democratic national committee, who has been sick at his home in this city for the last three weeks, is reported as much better today.

ITEM IN MOLINEUX TRIAL.

Printing of the Volume of Testimony Alone Cost $7,829.

New York, Aug. 17.—Edward R. Carroll, clerk of the Court of General Sessions, has sent to Comptroller Coker a bill for $7,829 for printing the volume of testimony taken at the trial of Roland B. Molineux for the killing of Mrs. Katharine J. Adams. The bills for stenographic work and other expenses connected with the trial far exceed this expense of the mere printing of the records of the case.

Schley Confers with Counsel.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 17.—Rear Admiral Schley has gone to work to refute the attacks of the bureaucrats and dry land sailors in the same quiet but thorough way in which he fought on the Brooklyn. New evidence strengthening his case developed today and was laid before his counsel.

TEACHERS WED ON TRIP TO MANILA

Thirty Couples Married at Honolulu, The Batch the Government is Sending Abroad.

Carbondale, Ill., Aug. 17.—The transport Thomas sailed from San Francisco about July 24, en route to Manila, having on board 200 male and 100 female teachers, who are to enter educational services under the Taft commission in the Philippines. These teachers were all unmarried and represent the various states of the Union. It now appears that Cupid wrought havoc among the school ma'ams and the young men on the journey from San Francisco to Honolulu. Two days before landing at Honolulu it became known to Captain Buford that several couples desired marriage. How far the epidemic had spread was unknown to him until he reached the islands, when thirty couples repaired to a Honolulu clergyman and became husbands and wives.

The Thomas remained in port forty-eight hours and a honeymoon ride of the newly wedded people to Wai Kiki, a suburb of Honolulu, was taken. Just before the vessel sailed it became known that at least three other couples desired to enter the matrimonial state, but the time limit blasted their hopes. What action the government will take in the marriages contracted en route is unknown, but a peculiar condition has been created.

SHE IS ONLY 16, BUT WEIGHS 349 POUNDS

Baraboo, Wis., Aug. 17.—Miss Laura Allbaugh, of Bloom City, Wis., is visiting relatives near Baraboo and attracts much attention owing to her remarkable size. She is not quite 16 years old, and yet she weighs 349 pounds. Her strength is in proportion to her size, which demonstrates that her surplus is largely made up of well-developed muscle. She can take an ordinary man in her grasp and throw him with the greatest of ease. During the hot weather of the present season she took a place in the field on her father's farm and did more work than any man in the neighborhood. Her parents are both well developed, which accounts in part for her abnormal size and strength. She has been offered a good salary to travel with amusement enterprises, but declined.

Peach Crop Is Short.

A careful estimate of the peach crop in the Maryland and Delaware peninsula places the number of baskets of the fruit at 2,000,000. That is 2,000,000 fewer than the estimate of last year's and means a higher price for peaches.

PLEASURE BOATS CAUGHT IN GALE

Grave Fears for Missing Vessels Out in Recent Southern Storm.

MANY LIVES LOST

Great Damage Reported to the Shipping Interests on the Gulf of Mexico.

DAMAGE TO FLORIDA

Mobile, Ala., Aug. 17.—Several pleasure boats and small vessels caught out in Wednesday's storm are missing and it is feared serious disasters with loss of life will be reported as results of the gale. Reports of the wrecking of craft at points beyond reach of the telegraph have come in, but confirmation is impossible. A number of vessels were stranded or sunk along the water front at this city and serious damage was done to railroads and to exposed property in town. News to-day is that the pleasure yacht Ariel, bound for Fish River with Robert and Winthrop Hall, of Mobile and others on board, pounded to pieces upon the wharf at Battles on the eastern shore. Nothing has been heard of the crew.

Six Drowned in Louisiana.

New Orleans, La., Aug. 17.—The storm has passed and seems to have done no great damage anywhere except along the river, below the city, six fatalities occurring near the river's mouth. The lives lost were half a mile above quarantine. A large house was overturned with fifteen persons in it. Mrs. Rosa Walker, her ten-year-old daughter, Ida Walker, Miss Birdie Cobden and Miss Ella Cobden were drowned. The crew of the tugboat Biloxi sought refuge a few hundred yards away and two of the sailors, Blaine Davidson and Peter Yea, were drowned and the boat lost.

Wreck Off the Florida Coast.

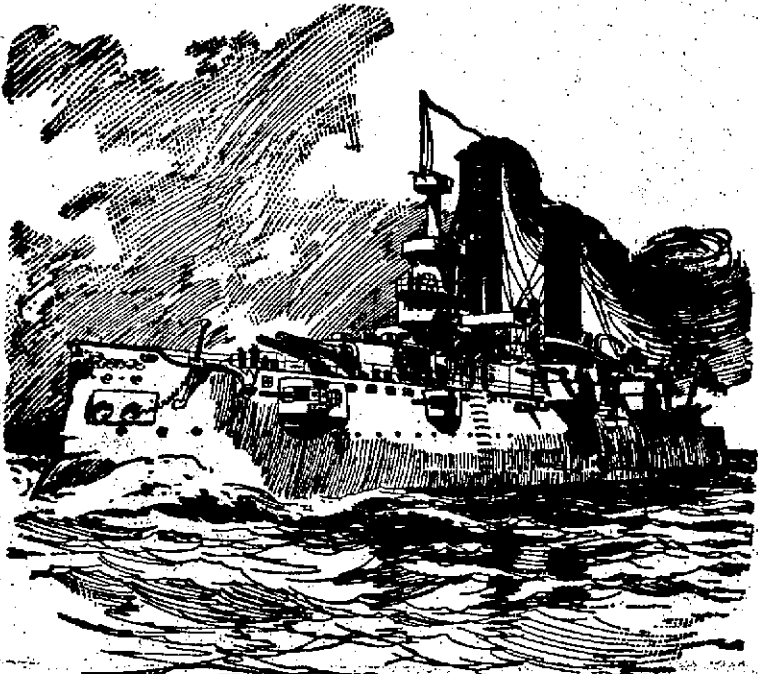

Pensacola, Fla., Aug. 17.—The French steamship Cyrano, which arrived this morning, reports that the American steamship Evelyn, ten days from New York for this port, went aground at 8 o'clock yesterday morning about 8 miles from Pensacola bar. The vessel is listed and is fast going to pieces. There was great damage to shipping in the bay and the water front property. Twelve or fifteen schooners of the E. E. Sander company fishing fleet were badly damaged. Four of them sank, causing a loss aggregating $70,000.

Amethyst in Bradshaw Mountains.

A recent report from Phoenix states that a discoverer of very fine amethyst has been made in the Bradshaw mountains north of Tucson. A deposit of large size, the first found in Arizona, has been uncovered there.

French Cycles and Motors.

Besides about 1,000,000 cycles, there are no fewer than 6,000 motor cars in use in France at present. There are 1,436 in the Seine department; and the rest are scattered about the country. The figures show an increase of 41 per cent in twelve months.

SEAGOING BATTLESHIP IOWA.

This powerful war vessel, now undergoing repairs in San Francisco, has been ordered to sail, as soon as she can be provisioned, for Panama, to protect American interests in that revolution-stricken country.

pared an order commanding the battleship Iowa, which arrived at San Francisco from Puget sound to proceed to Panama as soon as she can prepare for so long a voyage. The Iowa has an abundance of ammunition aboard and all she is likely to need is coal. This order will mean exactly what it says. Previous orders have been issued largely for consumption by newspaper readers and were not meant in good faith. The Ranger's orders which were transmitted to San Diego yesterday require the commander of that ship to sail without delay, so that she will probably be under way by this time.

The Machias is under similar orders. She will probably sail some time during the day. If Sec. Hay has his way a battleship, or in any event, a first-class cruiser, will follow the Machias to Colon.

Secretary Hay does not attempt to minimize the importance of protecting American interests on the isthmus. He suspects President Castro of Venezuela of ambitions that reach far beyond the mere suppression of local disturbances either in his own country or Colombia and he wants to be in a position to checkmate the South American ruler if he should attempt to put his plans into execution.

If it is Castro's design to unite Colombia, Nicaragua and Costa Rica so that he may secure control of the projected isthmian waterway Secretary Hay believes it is the duty of the United States to prevent his carrying out that design and to maintain existing conditions on the isthmus. This, in the judgment of the secretary, is clearly the duty of this nation under our treaty obligations.

PRESENTS FLAG TO FIRST REGIMENT; GENERAL BOARDMAN TO TALK

Third Regiment Will Pitch Tents at Camp Douglas Today, and the Others Will Return Home.

Camp Douglas, Aug. 17.—Dress parade last night was out of the usual order of proceedings, characterized by the officers being dismounted and the presentation of a flag to the regiment.

General Boardman's staff approached the regimental officers, carrying an elegant regimental flag, which was presented to Colonel Falk by the General and accepted by the colonel in a few well chosen words. He said:

"We shall always consider it our duty to honor, protect and defend the colors of our regiment."

After the presentation the boys marched into quarters without performing the usual review.

This morning at 7 o'clock all the men reported at the commissary department for pay, after which the camp will be vacated by the present regiment and the Third will succeed it in the afternoon and remain until Saturday, Aug. 24.

Just Between Ourselves

Humanity has many sides and there is one side that shows itself peculiarly to merchants and business people. It is the look-out-for-number-one, every-man-for-himself and his satanic majesty take the hindmost, grab all, be sure to get your money's worth policy, a little tinge of which is found in everyone and which is a prominent characteristic of a great number of people. How prominent the characteristics and how large the number of people in whom it is a controlling force, the man of business can best tell. The world is full of women and men too who seem to think there is some special reason why they should be privileged to buy goods for a great deal less than other people are charged. They will spend more nervous energy in haggling over a five-cent piece than an army general would use in planning and executing a year's campaign. When they buy a half dozen bananas they expect the merchant to select the six biggest and best ones on the bunch. They pinch peaches and then decide not to buy them and leave the purchase. If they should order a basket and the grocery man should send them the fruit which they themselves had pinched they would protest vigorously. They want better goods and more of them for less money than any one else can get and they never for a moment lose sight of their firm determination to get what they want.

It is in the store and the business relations of life that the true nature of a person reveals itself. A woman may be brilliant intellectually and be very charming in a social way and yet be a terror to the store keeper. There are more than a few women whose entrance in the store is a signal for all the clerks to "get busy" or disappear from the foreground if they can accomplish it with any show of decency. The clerk who cannot escape has the heartfelt sympathy of fellow employees and in many instances of the proprietors themselves.

One of these species, which would be peculiar if it were not so numerous as to give good cause for the suspicion that it is the rule rather than the exception, drifted into a local shoe store the other day. This particular specimen was feminine in gender although the women are no worse than the men—they are more noticeable because they go shopping oftener. When the clerk, who fell a victim to this woman's demands, retired from the field of action he had an exhausted look and was seemingly on the verge of nervous prostration. Those who had been amused if somewhat indignant spectators of the little episode, did not wonder at his condition. They had seen the clerk sell the woman a pair of shoes for $1 which had cost $2 wholesale and even though the shoes were out of fashion they felt that the woman had good reasons. Then the clerk gave the woman's little girl a pair of slippers which had not found a ready sale and which the child had admired and coveted. The spectators felt that the woman must be more than pleased by this time and every one nearly fell dead as the saying goes, when the woman paid her bill and actually had the nerve to ask for coupons.

"Bob" Bostwick is telling a good story at his own expense. It happened while the workmen were busy moving the house which his brother, J. L. Bostwick, purchased from the public library site to its new location on Sinclair street. As everyone knows the house was saved into two sections and moved up Court street hill, one section at a time. One night when the frost section was at the top of the hill in front of the Bostwick homestead and the other section was still at the foot of the hill it began to rain and Bob thought he would play the part of the thoughtful brother and cover up some things which were in the second story of the front section and which were exposed to the rain. He took some articles to serve as protection from the storm and ran over to the front half of his brother's house but when he got that far he ran against a snag. After looking around in vain for some way by which he could reach the second floor he turned to a workman who was on duty and asked him how he could get up stairs. The workman looked at him quizzically and then dryly remarked in drawing tones: "Waal, the only way I know of is for you to go down to the foot of the hill where the other half of the house is. The stairs are down there."

She is a little two-year-old and the only baby in the entire family of local relations. She enjoys her position thoroughly and has become accustomed to ruling like a little queen whenever she goes among her kinspeople. The other day there was an afternoon company at the home of one of her aunts and the baby was present with her mother. Some other children were also guest at the home and this was the first thing to displease her ladyship. Her elders rudely told her that her "nose was out of joint" and said kindred unkind things until she went away by herself until she could nurse her displeasure and watch proceedings. No attention was paid to her particularly and this was a new departure which she did not relish in the least. As the guests began to arrive she saw her chances for being the whole thing grow less and less and each arrival was eyed with increasing disapproval. Finally she decided on a bold move and when one of the elder people tried to admit some of the ladies who had just arrived she found the screen door tied shut on the outside. "Why, who did this?" she asked in amazement and little miss two-year-old answered promptly and triumphantly "I did. There's too many folks here now, Aunt, yose don't want no more." L. F. B.

REMAINING BANK ASSETS TO BE SOLD

Receiver L. H. Towne of the old Bank of Edgerton, which closed its doors nearly four years ago, will apply to the court as son as Judge Dunwiddie is back from his vacation, for an order to dispose of all the remaining assets of the bank. The aggregate of these will represent an indebtedness of over $115,000 and will doubtless be offered at auction and sold to the highest bidder. Here will be a chance to obtain some choice signatures to I. O. U.s. very cheap. You can secure a lasting memento of some prominent has-beens for a song. After Receiver Towne has pounded away on these claims for nearly four years the whole bunch of what is left will not present a very juicy picking to any collector. But the receivership is to be wound up and everything goes at the best offer, and the sale promises to be an interesting one.—Edgerton Reporter.

Crowd of Mischievous Boys. There is a crowd of mischievous boys in the first ward who are courting trouble and very possibly arrest for themselves by the peculiar manner which they take to have a good time. One of their chief delights is to bother the motormen on the street cars. This they do by dodging right in front of the cars, by placing obstacles on the tracks and in various other ways. Last evening about nine o'clock they ran behind the car on which Mr. Chapin is the motorman and pulled the trolley off from the wire. When the boys let go of the trolley it flew up and struck the span wire. The car was going quite fast at the time and the force with which the trolley struck the span wire broke the side post to which it was fastened off close to the ground. This let the live trolley wire down close to the ground in a dangerous position and workmen had to prop the post up until morning when permanent repairs were made. Such pranks on the part of the boys are dangerous and the one of last evening might easily have been followed with serious consequences.

TOBACCO CROP IS IN POOR CONDITION

The fate of the tobacco crop is now practically sealed and whether it rains or not makes but little difference now except with the latest plantings. Topping began in some sections about three weeks ago and harvesting and shedding are well under way near Hanover, Clinton, and Emerald Grove. George H. Florida, a well known grower of Florida, is filling a large new shed and his nine acres of tobacco will yield about two-thirds of a crop. Much of the tobacco will not be ready for topping for two weeks yet and some of that which was planted latest will probably never be ready unless there is a break in the continued hot and dry spell. There seems to be little prospect of any change in the prevailing conditions which have remained unchanged for some time past. The outlook is not very promising for good tobacco and flue-cured B's are about the best that can be looked for. The crop this year is said to be the most uneven of any ever raised in the state. Notwithstanding the fact that rains have been an almost unknown quantity the tobacco plants have derived much benefit from the heavy dews which have fallen these cool nights. Few people are early enough risers to appreciate the amount of moisture which is contained in a heavy dew and the broad spread of tobacco plants enable them to take a generous share of the moisture for their own nourishment. Frequent rains would do much toward increasing the spread of leaf in the later tobacco. Tobacco growers are still hopeful that the harvest will result in at least half a crop. The growing tobacco crop seems to be doing the best it can do under the trying weather conditions that continue to prevail. The tobacco belt of Southern Wisconsin still remains under the shadow of the most severe drought that it has ever experienced. The few rains that have fallen brought but temporary relief at best and the long looked for soaking showers are yet to come. Cooler weather has helped to allay some of the parching effects and the fields are making some growth even on soils where apparently there can be no moisture left. But the growth in most cases is narrow, pinched, with disposition to bud early that is seldom witnessed in Wisconsin tobacco. Another discouraging feature is the lateness of the crop. Here it is past the middle of August and fully one-half the living tobacco has not yet been topped. At least a month or six weeks immunity from frosts will be required to secure a harvest.

Compared with the conditions that prevailed a year ago this date, the contrast is particularly discouraging. The harvest then was well along by the middle of August and scarcely any of the fields but had been topped at that date. Buying had also commenced in the Vernon county district, while the crop was only partially harvested. There are but few of the very best fields that the harvesting has yet commenced while the vast amount of topping is yet to be done to say nothing of the fields that will hardly be harvested at all unless the fall is necessarily long. Tobacco has been grown in the older sections of Dane and Rock counties for the past forty years, but we question if the farmers can recall a single season when the outlook for a crop presented as poor an outlook as now. It is unquestionably the nearest thing to a total failure ever seen and there has been some poor crops grown in the state before.

Those persons in the leaf and cigar trade who have been sitting up nights worrying about the removal of the tariff from the products of Porto Rico have had their trouble for their pains. There isn't the slightest evidence that the trade in either leaf tobacco or cigars will be injured in the least. If Porto Rican manufacturers had good cigars to export it is a safe assertion that they have been coming here and have been sold in competition with American cigars already.—Edgerton Reporter.

Magnolia S. S. Picnic.

A large crowd was in attendance at the annual picnic given by the Magnolia Sunday School. Music was furnished by the Magnolia drum corps. The interesting feature of the picnic was the ball game in the afternoon between the team from Porter and the Magnolia boys. It was a hotly contested game from the first to the ninth inning. Score: Magnolia, 7; Porter, 11.

Difficult Digestion

That is dyspepsia. It makes life miserable. Its sufferers eat not because they want to—but simply because they must.

They complain of a bad taste in the mouth, a tenderness at the pit of the stomach, a feeling of puffy fullness, headache, heartburn and what not.

Hood's Sarsaparilla cured Joseph F. Laine, Flanagan, Ky., who writes: "I was troubled with dyspepsia for a number of years and took medicine that did me no good. I was advised by friends to try Hood's Sarsaparilla which I did and it put my bowels in perfect condition, gave me strength and energy and made me feel like a new person."

BECAME DISGUSTED WITH THE BOSSISM

Monroe Sentinel: Many republicans who have been true personal friends of Governor La Follette, who have voted and worked for his election to congress and for governor, are becoming disgusted with the "bossism," the arrogance, the foolhardy vindictiveness, displayed by the coterie of individuals, who claim to be "originals." Now, personally we have no interest in what is done with the petty offices at the disposal of Governor La Follette's administration. We would be glad to see a condition of harmony in the republican party; but not of the sort where the lion has the lamb inside of him. Machine politics has never been so thoroughly exemplified in Wisconsin as it has been during the past six months. Their machine rattles and attracts a great deal of attention. Hence there is forming a vigorous organized protest from every part of the state. And hence the recent meeting in Milwaukee, of leading republicans, members of the legislature, committee men, members of congress, and men also who have paid thousands of dollars into the campaign funds, and have not asked for office, and ask no favors. They propose to see fairness in politics, and perpetuate a republican form of government in Wisconsin, instead of an autocracy or democracy.

As we understand it, the Milwaukee conference was not per se inimical to Governor La Follette's second term. It was however, decidedly opposed to the candidacy of Hon. I. M. Stephenson for Jno. C. Spooner's place in the United States senate. It is understood that a campaign of education is to be inaugurated regarding primary election schemes, which are intended to put the machinery of the party in the hands of as slick a lot of party bosses and machine politicians as was ever known. The sort of machinery that a millionaire can by starting and backing a few newspapers into prominence and place, in spite of the rural districts and the ablest men in the state or party. A machine that is in perpetual motion, wheels within wheels; self-perpetuating; complicated, expensive and opposed to republicanism; such as was contemplated by the Stevens bill, which was defeated by the legislature last winter, the governor's ultimatum, "This or Nothing," to the contrary, notwithstanding. There is yet remaining a year's time in which to discuss the primary election scheme as presented in the recent legislature. It is a subject that is revolutionary and contemplates such a complete change from the caucus and delegate convention system, so long in vogue, that a year is not too long for its careful and candid discussion. Before it is adopted, it should be submitted to a vote of the people as an organic part of the state constitution. It should not be thrust into a campaign as a party measure. We shall take the liberty of presenting arguments on this subject, from time to time, and do our part in the campaign of education.

BAY VIEW MEN MAY STRIKE

M. F. Tighe Induces Lodge to Call Meeting.

VOTE TODAY OR TOMORROW.

Workmen at Bay View Believe That the Mechanics There Will Follow Joliet and Strike—The Situation at Pittsburg Shows a Division.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 17.—Michael F. Tighe and W. C. Davis were in conference for several hours last evening with officers of the local lodge of the Amalgamated association, at Bay View, settling the question of a date for a meeting when Tighe is to address the members on the strike question from the viewpoint of President Shaffer and his associates at Pittsburg. The meeting was set for 3 p. m. today. The meeting today is the regular meeting of the lodge, and it may be decided to defer the matter until Sunday morning, when there will be larger attendance and accordingly a fuller expression of sentiment. Tighe, it is said, has been able to convince a number of the leaders who oppose a strike that the failure of the contest with the steel trust would lodge with the local men if they refused to go out, and that every step thus far taken by Shaffer is legal according to the laws of the association. Tighe, Davis, and other lodge officials talked the matter over quietly and in the best spirit all the evening, and it was late before they adjourned. After it was all over, the knots of men gathered about the lodge hall and others at Bay View seemed to believe that Bay View would follow Joliet in the end, and that South Chicago would be next in line, making the tie-up of the Federal company's mills in the northwest complete.

Tinplate Union May Refuse Aid. Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 17.—The decision of the International Tinplate Workers' Protective association on the question of handling Welsh plates is likely to have an important bearing on the steel strike. It is claimed by many tinplate men that the Amalgamated association never has aided them, and they are under no obligation to the union. Local branches of the tinplate union are voting on the question. A lengthy statement in behalf of the tin workers has been made public here.

SOUTH CHICAGO MEN EXCITED.

Decision to Strike at Joliet Stirr Steel Workers.

Chicago, Aug. 17.—South Chicago steel workers are excited today, and begin to doubt whether their second vote not to strike was judicious. News of the unanimous vote of the steel workers in Joliet to strike, which came last night, was astounding, and many of them understood for the first time the action of Secretary Tighe, when at the meeting held in South Chicago Wednesday night he declared the charters of their lodges revoked.

Secretary Tighe contends that the men in South Chicago are no longer members of the Amalgamated association. Had the national official simply condemned the action of the South Chicago men and expressed his contempt for them it is thought probable no strike would have been declared in Joliet, and it is believed by many of the deposed members that fear of similar action on the part of Secretary Tighe brought about a revulsion of feeling on the part of the men in that city and made them determined to strike if necessary to retain their membership in the union.

Leaders of the men in South Chicago say, by advice received from Joliet previous to the no-strike vote, they had become persuaded that the men in that city were opposed to a strike and would refuse to obey the mandate of President Shaffer if the men in the South Chicago mills voted to stay at work. Although appreciating the seriousness of their position if they should be expelled from the union they found comfort in believing that the men in the other mills of the Illinois Steel company, finding themselves in a similar position, would enter into a combination which had for its aim the formation of a new steel workers' organization composed of western men. The action of yesterday, however, has dashed all hopes in that direction and should the men in Milwaukee be influenced by Secretary Tighe to strike today they realize they may be in a position that will compel them to reconsider the strike vote and enter the fray if they would hope to redeem themselves in the eyes of the organization.

PRECIPITATE A BIG STRIKE.

Print Manufacturer Borden's Assertion as to Mill-Owners.

New York, Aug. 17.—Matthew C. Borden, who is largely interested in print cloth mills in Fall River, Mass., and who has an office in that city, speaking of the prospective strike among the operators in New England, is quoted as saying that the mill owners of Fall River had announced the proposed reduction in wages for the purpose of precipitating a strike, which would afford them an opportunity to dispose of a surplus of goods that is at present choking up the mills. Mr. Borden said:

"Personally, I don't approve of this way of doing business. It would be far better, more businesslike and manly, to meet the issue squarely, lay the case before the men and explain the necessities for a temporary lay-off. The men are honest and have, I believe, the best interests of their employers at heart, and would be willing to accept such a condition philosophically and in a manner befitting sensible men."

MILLS ARE DARK.

Joliet, Ill., Aug. 17.—The mills of the Illinois Steel company are idle. The American Steel and Wire company mills are also affected and its 3,000 workers will have to lie idle until there is a settlement of the strike or other men are brought here to fill the places of those who have walked out of the Illinois mills.

The American Steel and Wire company's mills are running as usual, but they must soon close, as the Illinois company furnishes it with rods and the mill concern cannot continue operating its mills when the supply of raw material is cut off.

HASN'T POWER TO REVOLVE.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 17.—The constitution and by-laws of the Amalgamated association specifically prohibit the revocation of a branch lodge's charter, as was done in Chicago, by any individual. It is provided that when any violations of the laws occur they shall be reported in writing to the vice-president of the district, who will investigate, and, if warranted, bring the accused lodge before the national body for trial.

GOVERNOR'S WIDOW IN JAIL

Mrs. Mason, Formerly of Michigan, Dying at Toledo.

TELLS A PITIFUL STORY.

Declares She Was Poisoned and Robbed by Strange Woman—Detectives Are Investigating Charges—The Officers Believe She Is Slightly Demented.

Toledo, Ohio, Aug. 17.—Unknown to the heads of the police department until last evening, Mrs. Dr. Pauline Mason, who says she is the widow of ex-Governor Mason of Michigan, has been at the police station in care of the matron for one week. She is 74 years old and is critically ill with dropsy. She says she was robbed of $1,742 in this city by another woman a short time ago. Mrs. Mason has lived here for forty years and for the last four years, until five weeks ago, had resided on Adams street. According to her story she was poisoned by a woman whose husband died at the hospital, and that while she was sick the woman ransacked her trunk and robbed her of her money and other property. It is thought that she is slightly demented. Five weeks ago Mrs. Mason went to Detroit with friends for treatment, but was brought back to Toledo a week ago Thursday and placed in care of the matron at the police station. The matron has cared for her as best she could, but last night was compelled to call Dr. William Walker, although Mrs. Mason objected to medical attendance. Detectives O'Brien and Krus are investigating the story of the robbery. The woman whom Mrs. Mason charges with stealing her property left Toledo for Detroit after the death of her husband. One of Mrs. Mason's most sensational statements is that the woman also poisoned her own husband with fatal effect. He was taken to the Toledo hospital on July 3 and died two days later.

To Climb Mountain Peak.

City of Mexico, Aug. 17.—Prof. A. R. Crooks, who occupies the chair of mineralogy and economic geology at Northwestern university, Evanston, has started to climb Orizaba peak, a volcano on the edge of the Mexican plateau 18,314 feet high. The mountain is exceedingly difficult of ascent, but Prof. Crooks, who has done a great deal of mountain climbing in Europe and Asia, is confident that he will reach the top. He is fully equipped for the expedition and carries a full photographic outfit. He expects to secure much valuable data for use in his class work. He came to Mexico in the interest of his profession and during his stay in this city has been entertained by the Geological institute. The Mexican government has extended all the assistance possible to aid him in his researches.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

Digests what you Eat

People once thought that the only way to cure indigestion was to stop eating. The trouble with such treatment is, that to stop eating is to stop living. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure has changed the whole method of treating this complaint. It contains all the natural digestive fluids and digests all you eat without aid from the stomach, so you can eat all the good food you want and be cured of your trouble at the same time. It has been troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia for several years and often sat down to eat but had to give it up after eating only two bites. I used two bottles of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and am alright to-day. Can now eat anything I want. W. L. Easton, Audubon, Iowa.

Baby's Coming

McDonald, Ga., July 18, 1900.

I advise every suffering woman to take Wine of Cardui. While I was going with my other children I was compelled to stay in bed for days at a time, but this time I have taken Wine of Cardui and Theodor's Black-Draught and have been able to do all my housework without any trouble. I am expecting every day to be confined. My husband thinks Wine of Cardui is the best medicine in the world. He takes a dose of Theodor's Black-Draught every night and gives some to the children. He has not lost a day from work this year. He tells his friends about your wonderful medicines and I tell my lady friends to use your Wine of Cardui.

Mrs. GEORGIA LEE.

WINE OF CARDUI

There are thousands of women who shrink in terror at the thought of the baby's coming. But childbirth is one of the workings of Nature and it was not intended to imply torture and agony to the heroic mothers of the race. The woman who suffers torture during pregnancy and at childbirth has usually, by some indication, injured the organs which make her a woman. Neglect of menstrual irregularities leads to ovarian pain, falling of the womb and leucorrhoea, and the period of pregnancy is necessarily distressing under those conditions. Wine of Cardui will regulate the menstrual function perfectly and eventually make the generative organs strong and healthy. Pregnancy and childbirth have no terrors for the woman who takes this pure Wine. A strong healthy womb will bring its precious burden to maturity with little or no pain. A healthy woman need not fear childbirth. Wine of Cardui completely cures all these troubles familiarly known as "female diseases" and equips the sensitive generative organs for pregnancy and childbirth. It will save any mother much pain and suffering. All druggists sell $1.00 bottles.

From Infancy To Age

Laxakola for Babies.—It is the best and most effective laxative for children. BEST because it is safe and made entirely of harmless ingredients. BEST because it is non-irritating and never gripes or causes pain or irritation. BEST because it is sure and never fails. BEST because "Children like it and ask for it." BEST because its tonic properties are so good and so strengthening that it keeps the little ones in fine, hearty condition. It is a dangerous thing to give little babies violent cathartics that rack and rend their little bodies. DON'T DO IT—give them Laxakola. For constipation, coated tongue, simple colic and fevers it is invaluable.

Laxakola for Young Girls on the threshold of womanhood, has been found invaluable. When they become pale and languid, the eyes dull, aching head, feet and hands cold, appetite gone or abnormal, and their systems generally run down, they need building up, and their blood needs cleansing. Give them Laxakola, its gentle, bowel action to cleanse and its tonic properties to build up the system, will show immediate and most beneficial results.

Laxakola for Mothers.—It is particularly valuable and useful to women, especially mothers, as it is a gentle and safe remedy to use during all conditions of health whenever their peculiar and delicate constitutions require a mild and efficient laxative and tonic, while to nursing mothers, worn out with the care of infants and whose systems therefore are particularly susceptible to disease Laxakola particularly appeals.

It clears the complexion, brightens the eye, sharpens the appetite, removes mummy and blotched condition of the skin and cures sick headache to a certainty by removing the cause.

To women suffering from chronic constipation, headaches, biliousness, dizziness, sallowness of the skin and dyspepsia, Laxakola will invariably bring relief.

Laxakola for Old Folks.—In the Autumn and Winter of Life, when the various organs through long years of action have become more or less sluggish, it becomes necessary to stimulate them by some remedy best adapted to that purpose. That Laxakola is such, has been proved beyond all question. Its gentle warming, soothing action on the bowels, liver and kidneys, stimulates them to increased activity, cleanses the blood, quickens the circulation, and puts the whole system in a condition of health and enables it to ward off disease, while its tonic properties tone up the system and keep it healthy.

Laxakola Does It.

Laxakola is not only the most efficient of family remedies, but the most economical because it combines two medicines for one price, tonic and laxative. No other remedy gives so much for the money. All druggists, 25c and 50c, or free sample of THE LAXAKOLA CO., 132 Nassau St., N. Y., or 355 Dearborn St., Chicago.

HUMAN NATURE.

Two little three-year-old tots were playing together the other day with nothing to annoy them save the little jealousies incident to child life. Dolls and toys were scattered around in profusion and two interested mothers watched the spirit that entered into the play, wondering if children were the same today that they were back in the years of their childhood.

Each of the little cherubs was possessed of a disposition to monopolize all of the dolls and play things and each little heart was filled with passion and envy, revealing traits of character that the mothers discussed with solicitude.

They decided that human nature was much the same in all ages and conditions and that the same spirit that rushed the baby face with anger produced the frown and expression of passion in children of large growth.

Poor human nature is responsible for many weaknesses of character and the notion is altogether too popular that people are morally weak, because not naturally endowed with strength.

The child came into life possessing the powers of action and expression, but lacking the power to think and reason. He is full of wants, both real and imaginary. His controlling ambition is to have what he wants, regardless of others' rights or comforts.

This ambition gratified as is the case with too many children, becomes a controlling ambition, and with the dawning of thought and reason the little mind is thoroughly possessed of the notion that every want must be gratified at any cost.

When the boy becomes a youth and the girl a Miss, they are recognized as children who have always had their own way, and as they go on into life traits of character that are full of selfishness, naturally develop, and the home turns out the finished product of a man and woman engrossed in self.

This class of men and women stock the prisons and reformatories and popular sentiment says they are born criminals, unable to resist the weakness of human nature.

While it is doubtless true that some children inherit a disposition for crime, it is also true that such cases are extremely rare.

The dishonest man, as a rule, comes out of the home that is called good, and the girl that goes to the bad is frequently from the same kind of environment.

The statement will not be disputed that every baby that comes into this life is a child of God, not responsible until the age of accountability is reached.

It is also generally conceded that the heart is prone to evil, and that with the dawning of reason commences the era of conquest, when the controlling forces wage constant warfare for possession.

The baby that was God's baby, up to this point, becomes the master of his own destiny with power to think and act, and exercise a will that makes him a free moral agent. The care of the immortal spark is transferred by the Creator, to human hands and the responsibility of the home and its training is taken up or neglected as the case may be.

If the child has been gratified in every desire before the age of thought and reason, it continues to make unreasonable demands and the mother soon discovers that she has a self-willed girl while the father despairs of doing anything with the boy.

The years of early training have been neglected, and yet people wonder why christian homes turn out such children, forgetting that it requires more than prayer or missionary enthusiasm to make an ideal home.

The old scripture statement, "Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it," is just as true today as when it was first expressed.

The training ground is in the home and not in the skies. Prayer and faith are not the only requisites. A little birch rod now and then if necessary, is a good accompaniment. The mother thinks for herself and thinks for the girl. The father for himself and plans for the boy. If wise thinkers and planners, the boy and the girl soon recognize the wisdom of age and experience and the danger point, that comes into the life of every boy and girl is safely passed.

Human nature, left to self-development, does not often yield a desirable product. The conflict between good and evil is an unequal conflict and unless some human hand prompted by a human heart, touched by the spirit of the Master, is extended to guide and control the young life through the formative years, the life may be easily ruined. This is the mission of the home, and it requires profound wisdom, if the work is faithfully performed.

The men and women of the next generation, are the boys and girls of today. If they are to make the world better it will be due to the fact that they go into active life equipped for the responsibilities. The homes of today are furnishing the equipment, and there has never been a period in the world's history where wise judgment and good hard common sense was more thoroughly needed.

The tendency of the age is toward freedom of thought and action; that under the guise of liberty, amounts in many cases no license.

The faith of the fathers is a by-word. All sorts of fads and isms are in the air, and young men and women go out of the home to breathe an atmosphere that is tainted and unwholesome.

If the home training and influence has been deficient they are easy victims.

Better the blue laws of old New England, than the looseness of the twentieth century.

Human nature has not changed very much. It is possible by Divine guidance and the display of ordinary common sense, to equip a child for active life, with character strong and well rounded. The home has much to do with the product of human nature.

Alabama has a public spirited citizen who is attracting the attention of the north as well as that of his fellow citizens. Ex-Gov. Jones of Montgomery has not been satisfied when out of office and a private citizen to sit idly by and express his opinion for or against public measures. It was he who protested so strongly against negro disfranchisement in the south. And he alone was responsible for the insertion of an amendment into the constitution, relative to lynchings, which expresses the feelings of the enlightened in every community.

Mr. Jones called attention to the fact that more than 100 lynchings had occurred in ten years and also that it was becoming so common that larceny was a sufficient excuse for immediate death to three and four people. We are thankful that the Ex-Governor's speech was sufficiently eloquent and his influence profound enough to cause the convention to issue an amendment regulating the duties of sheriffs in the performance of their duty in protecting prisoners even with their lives. If the south had more men of this type who were willing to devote themselves to this work it would be the greatest possible service to that section of the country.

At the English exposition in London this week, the prominent display made by American manufacturers has attracted considerable attention because of its significance. At this popular exposition which is an annual affair no foreign merchants are expected to be given space who are not represented by permanent London houses. Never the less the omnipresent Yankee was found to have occupied all of the strategic positions and his display entirely outranked his English brothers both in the number of exhibitors and in the completeness of the lines represented, which were iron, mongery and hardware trades. The prominence of American made hardware is well exemplified by the particular exhibition which shows to what an extent Americans have invaded the sacred precincts supposedly reserved for the British.

The Manitoba school fight has been settled at last, by the relinquishment of the Catholic institutions to the control of the regular boards of education, who promise to retain all the present teachers who can qualify, and who have prohibited religious garbs being worn by teachers. In this way no nuns will be kept on the teachers' force.

The province is fortunate in not having on its hands a bitter and disastrous religious fight, which would have resulted in great animosity and demoralization of the entire school system.

South Chicago steel workers will have to worry along without the assistance of the Amalgamated Association hereafter. Shaffer's great argument that the trusts should not be allowed to interfere in any way with the liberty and freedom of the working man, does not seem to fit the other foot.

The time has come for guns as well as swords to be beaten into plowshares and punning hooks. Dr. Gatling, the inventor of the Gatling gun, has invented a motor plow and propose following the paths of peace and industry hereafter.

The Canadian boat now becomes the defender, but not so much by virtue of her speed as by the ability of her captain to jockey and compel his opponent to foul.

The fusing has begun, populists, democrats, and silver-republicans. But just wait until the pot begins to boil, and then see how long they will stay fused.

FAMINE RAGES IN ISLAND OF PANAY

Manila, Aug. 17.—A famine attended with dreadful loss of life from starvation is reported on the Island of Panay. Hunger has driven many of the natives to desperation and there is much lawlessness. At Capiz one hundred and thirty persons are reported to have died of starvation. The government officials here will take immediate steps to relieve the distressed.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL NOTES

This afternoon for the third time within the past two weeks, the spacious home of Mrs. Mary Lappin, 252 Park Place, was thrown open to invited guests and Mrs. Lappin and her daughters, Mesdames E. P. Carpenter, Mary Doty and C. S. Putnam, entertained in charming manner their lady friends. The party was similar to the two happy events which preceded it. Invitations were issued for 2:30 o'clock and to the more than eighty cards sent out there were but few regrets.

About 5 o'clock the dainty luncheon was served the hostess being assisted by Mesdames H. G. Carter, E. P. Doty, A. P. Burnham, J. J. Hall and Mary Yonce.

Another Five O'clock Tea. The home of Mr. and Mrs. James Mout, 401 Court street, was the scene of a very pretty party last evening, the occasion being the second of a series of Five o'clock teas given by Mrs. Mout and her daughters, Misses Grace, Margaret and Mary Mout, to their lady friends.

Immediately upon the arrival of the guests tea was served at daintily spread tables. The menu was a delicious one and the guests were well cared for by their hostesses, assisted by Mesdames Frank Mout, Malcolm C. Mout, D. K. Jeffris and T. W. Goldin.

When ample justice had been done the feast of good things prepared by the tables were removed and the time was spent in a very pleasant and perfectly informal manner. Instead of the customary cards, amusing pictures from "Life" formed the center of sociability and few social events have been more heartily enjoyed than the one of last evening.

During the entire evening exquisite mandolin and guitar music was furnished by Lawrence Doty and Edward Wray.

This evening Mrs. Mout and her daughters will entertain another party of friends, tonight's tea being the final one of the series. The hostesses will be assisted in serving by the same ladies who helped them last evening and the guests will be entertained in the same delightfully informal manner with pictures and music by Messrs. Wray and Doty. Harry Haggart, who has just returned from an eastern trip will play with them this evening.

AMUSEMENT NOTES. Quite a fair sized audience assembled at Myers Grand opera house last night to see "A Baggage Check" played by Chas. E. Blaney's company. The company, just organized, did themselves credit. The play is brim full of funny situations and sayings and has some excellent musical numbers which are rendered with a vim and vigor that is pleasing. James E. Kelley and the Misses McCoy and Littlefield were the bright particular stars.

About fifteen children of this city are to be picked by Manager P. L. Myers to appear on the stage in the production, "Lovers' Lane," which will be seen at the Myers Grand Sept. 10. When the group of children is secured a photograph of the group will be taken and sent to E. D. Price, the general manager of the company who will have a cut made for use in the local newspapers.

The children play a very important part in "Lovers' Lane." Those who have lines to speak are carried with the company but a larger number are required in the recess scene at the village school. All the local little people have to do into be natural and play "London Bridge is falling Down" and other games and to sing "Old Dog Tray" as they march about the stage, but they contribute wonderfully to the realism and completeness of the production. An equal number of boys and girls, ranging from six to fourteen years old, but most of them little children are wanted.

The company furnishes the fancy dresses for them. Any children who would like to take part are requested to meet Manager Myers at the opera house next Monday morning between 9 and 12 o'clock.

DR. MILLS TELLS STORY OF ROBBERY

EXAMINATION OF J. O. KIRKPATRICK GOING ON TODAY.

The Cash Drawer in the Safe Broken Open Contained About $40 in Currency—Admits the Prisoner Told Him He Was Going to Dakota Very Soon.

The examination of J. Oscar Kirkpatrick, who was brought back from Watertown, S. D., by Sheriff Maltress, on the charge of having robbed Dr. James Mills' safe, on Aug. 6, was taken up today in the municipal court. District Attorney Jackson appeared for the state, and C. E. Pierce and Harry Maxfield for the defendant.

Dr. James Mills was the first witness called by the state. He stated that he had occupied his present office on West Milwaukee street for sixteen years. He had known the defendant nine months and had him in his employ during that time. The defendant took care of his horses and worked around the house and office. He was in the office with him on Aug. 6th, and left there with him for home at 5:30 o'clock that day after locking his safe and the door between the front and back office. Kirkpatrick rode with him as far as the corner of Bluff and East Milwaukee streets and got out to go to his supper at Mrs. George's on North Bluff street.

He did not see the defendant again until about 8 o'clock that evening, when he came back to the office. He met him there and paid him $5 that was due him. Miss George was in the office at the time and took the $5 for a board bill due her mother. The witness did not open his safe that night and did not open it until 3 o'clock next day when he found it had been robbed. Kirkpatrick was at his home that evening and bid witness' little boy goodbye.

His recollection was that the cash drawer contained about $25 in silver, $10 in gold and some Canadian money and pennies. "Two two and a half dollar gold pieces were in another drawer with some trinkets, watch chains, and a gold watch. Mrs. Mills also had some valuables and some money tied up in silk handkerchiefs in another part of the safe. The handkerchiefs had been opened and the money taken."

Kirkpatrick gave up his keys to the office on the night of Aug. 6 at 8 o'clock. On account of his leaving for Dakota so soon after the robbery suspicion rested on him as being the one who had committed the robbery. Dr. Mills admitted that Kirkpatrick told him he was going to Watertown, Dakota, and at what time he intended to leave so that he knew where he had gone to. Kirkpatrick was in the Spanish American war and most of his friends in the regiment live at Watertown, and that was his reason for going there. The broken safe lock and the hammer and wrench that were used to demolish it were offered in evidence.

E. B. Colton, station agent at Evansville for the Northwestern, testified to selling two tickets to Kirkpatrick, and his brother to Watertown, S. D., on Aug. 7th, and receiving $30.35 for the two tickets. It was all in bills excepting fifty cents which the odd change was taken from. He was not certain whether Kirkpatrick or his brother bought the tickets and could not remember the denomination of the bills. The defendant and his brother took the 12:25 p. m. train out of Evansville although they were told they would have to change at Baraboo. They said they would go as far as they could on the next train. He was not positive that he had ever seen either of the boys before, but thought he had. Their trunk did not go on the same train with them but went on a later one.

Richard McNeil was called and testified to carrying Kirkpatrick's trunk on the Myers house dray from Dr. Mills' house to the Northwestern station. That Kirkpatrick opened the trunk while in his room at Dr. Mills' home and put an overcoat in it. He spoke of having some money in it that he did not wish to lose.

E. J. Northrop, night baggageman at the Northwestern, testified to checking his trunk to Evansville on the morning of the 7th of August. Kirkpatrick brought it there the night before and asked to leave it all night. J. W. Hogan was called and testified to being called upon to examine the safe and the condition of the doors and transoms of Dr. Mills' office. He described the condition of affairs about the office and at the time of going to press was still on the stand.

At the close of Chief Hogan's testimony C. E. Pierce, attorney for the defense made a motion to dismiss the charge against Kirkpatrick on the ground that the state had no case. The motion was overruled by Judge Fifield.

Other Court Cases.
The case of the City of Janesville against Fred Frytag of 391 Locust street on the charge of shooting at a dog in the city limits was called this morning in the municipal court for trial. He withdrew his plea of not guilty and plead guilty to the charge. He was fined $2 and costs, in all $5.60, which he paid.

In the case of the State of Wisconsin against John Dougherty and Louis O'Rourke, in the municipal court this morning a jury was drawn to try the case. Eighteen names were selected with the understanding that the first twelve were to be used and the talesmen selected from the last six. The venire was issued and made returnable for Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

Blacksmiths' Picnic Today.
The blacksmiths and horse shoers of this city, fifty strong, indulged in a picnic today on the shores of Lake Koshkonong. They left this morning at 7:30 for Port Atkinson, where they joined the blacksmiths of that city, and took the steamboat Uncle Sam for the lake, where they enjoyed a day of pleasure. A special coach was attached to the Fond du Lac train to carry the crowd. They will return at 7:40 this evening.

Maynes' are at Ishpeming
Supt. D. D. Mayne and family are established in their new home in Ishpeming, Mich., although comparatively few people knew that they had removed permanently from the city. Mr. Mayne came down from Lake Kegonsa and attended to shipping the goods and Mrs. Mayne and the boys went directly to their new home from the lake. It had been expected that they would return to this city for a few days before going to Ishpeming but they decided to slip away quietly and avoid the painful ordeal of saying goodbye to their many friends.

Property Owners Complain
There is considerable complaint among property owners on Court street about the damage which was done to the street and to the trees by the moving of the house from the city library site to Sinclair street. Great holes were dug in the macadam and in several instances large limbs were cut from the beautiful shade trees which form an arch over the street. The graceful shape of the trees has been ruined and those who have admired the trees for many years are very indignant. The damage done to the street can be remedied, but the symmetry of the trees cannot be restored.

CITIZENS INSPECT CANNING PLANT

It is Found That Hohenadel Has Far Exceeded What He Promised When He Came Here.

A year ago when P. Hohenadel told the citizens of Janesville he would erect a canning plant in this city second to none in the United States and that he would have it running in time to handle this year's crop he knew what he was talking about and last evening demonstrated to a party of Janesville business men that he had not made an overstatement.

The canning factory is without doubt as near perfect as long experience in running plants of this kind and the latest improved machinery could make it. Their first proposition to Janesville was to erect a plant worth from $30,000 to $35,000. They have exceeded these figures by at least $20,000, and today have a plant capable of handling more truck than any factory in the United States.

Last evening a party of citizens interested in the welfare of the plant accepted Mr. Hohenadel's invitation to go down and inspect it while it was running. The plant was a great surprise to most of them who had no idea that there was so much to the institution. They were shown through the entire plant by Mr. Hohenadel, and his assistants and were given a chance to see the different processes through which the corn, cucumbers and cabbages pass before they are ready for the market in the shape of canned corn, pickles and sauer kraut.

The kraut department in particular is claimed to be the largest in the world. The pickling department is also a marvel. The immense salting vats, the smallest holding 1,100 and the largest, 2,000 bushels of cucumbers are now in operation.

There are enough of these vats to hold all the cucumbers at one time that could be brought in fifty freight cars. The boiler room and electric light plant also came in for a thorough inspection and the automatic device with which to stop the machinery in case of accident or breakdown was also highly commended.

The corn department was not running full blast on account of the scarcity of first-class corn. The long continued drought injured the crop to such an extent that not over sixty per cent of a crop will be harvested.

Each of the visitors was presented with a handsome souvenir in the shape of a label to be used on the Dewey and Bower City brands of corn.

Among those who visited the factory were Senator J. M. Whitehead, A. H. Sheldon, E. C. Johnson, Geo. G. Sutherland, E. W. Lowell, R. M. Bostwick, J. L. Bostwick, T. W. Goldin, H. D. McKinney, E. W. Putnam, J. J. Cunningham, Edwin F. Field, W. W. Watt, E. H. Herrick, Rev. W. A. Goebel, W. P. Sayles, A. E. Bingham and E. A. Hardy.

JANESVILLE FOLKS TO LOOK AT STARS

An Invitation Extended by Prof. Parkinson to Visit Him at Madison Observatory.

Prof. J. B. Parkinson, vice-president of the University of Wisconsin, and wife of Madison, were in the city yesterday and were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Woods. Prof. Parkinson also called on his old friend, George G. Sutherland, and during his visit arrangements were made for a party of business men from this city to go to Madison some time in the near future and look at the stars through the magnificent telescope which belongs to the university.

This season of the year is especially favorable for star gazing as many of the prominent planets can be seen advantageously during the evening. The moons of Jupiter are plainly visible and the visitors expect also to see Mars, Venus and innumerable other interesting sights in the sky.

Horace McElroy is the promoter of this astronomical excursion and George G. Sutherland, John Cunningham, George Simpson and J. J. Cunningham are among those who are interested. The trip will be taken some day next week and the party will include about a dozen prominent business men.

HOME FROM THE CONVENTION
Delegates in Attendance From All Parts of the Country.

W. F. Hayes, the eye specialist with F. C. Cook & Co., returned home last evening from Chicago, where he has been in attendance at the national meeting of the American Association of Opticians. This session lasted four days, and was held at the Sherman house. Each day lectures were given, participated in by the leading eye specialists of this country. The meetings throughout proved of much value, to those so fortunate as to be in attendance. The sessions closed with a banquet.

Origin of Weeks.
The Greeks and Romans had no weeks until they borrowed this division of time from the East. The Greeks divided the month into three equal periods; the Romans into three very unequal—the Kalends, Ides and Nones.

NEW SALTING PROCESS
But Few People Know What Good Salted Peanuts Taste Like

"I think it is safe to state that but few people in Janesville realize how delicious good salted peanuts taste," said a Third ward lady as she emerged from the Palace of Sweets restaurant on the bridge. "At the Palace of Sweets they salt their own peanuts and take extra good care of every pound salted. They salt peanuts daily. In no way are they like the kind you buy in grocery stores."

JOLLY CROWD OFF FOR LAKE MONONA

Train of Ten Coaches Carried the Janesville Machine Co. Excursion to Madison Today.

It was a jolly crowd that left the Northwestern station this morning bound for Madison on the Janesville Machine Co.'s excursion to Lake Monona. A train of ten coaches and a baggage car in charge of Conductor Lane and Engineer Raymore left the station at 8:30. Most of the cars were well filled when they left here and it was estimated that at least four hundred and fifty men, women and children were aboard.

The male employees of the company, 100 strong, formed on River street shortly after 8 o'clock, and headed by the Imperial band, marched to the station. J. A. Craig, S. C. Cobb and C. D. Childs were the leaders of the day's outing and looked after the people under their charge to see that all had a good time.

The train arrived at Madison shortly after nine o'clock and the people were conveyed to the shady picnic grounds on the shores of Lake Monona by the numerous steamboats that travel the lake. Here the day was spent in games of different kinds, among them being a ball game between the picked nine from the molding room and one from among the machinists. Also a tug of war between the blacksmiths and a team from the other departments. There were fat races, hurdle races, and jumping matches. In fact, everything was done that could be to make the day enjoyable.

A number of excursionists took advantage of the chance and put in a portion of the day inspecting the state buildings, the university ground and buildings and the state historical library buildings.

Picnic, Fair and Races.
On Tuesday, Aug. 27th, the Guards of Honor of St. Mary's church will give their annual picnic at the old fair grounds. In addition to the usual attractive features of the picnic they propose this year to make the occasion one of rare enjoyment and pleasure to all, old and young. The entertainment will embrace some of the features of a fair as premiums will be awarded for exhibits. Racing of the highest order will be made a leading feature as liberal rewards have been announced. Already the owners of several fast and well known horses have promised to enter their horses and cheerfully contribute to make the day a veritable carnival of sport and pleasure, not only for this occasion, but to become an annual fixed event. If the society meet with success no doubt another year the entertainment will embrace two days.

THE LAND OF TWELVE TIMES TWELVE

When you are only a little chap of 5, you go to kindergarten. That's nothing but fun. All you do is playing games and make things of colored paper. But when you get to be a big fellow of 9 you go into the third grade. Then you meet the times table. The idea of calling a thing a table when it hasn't a leg to stand on and is just a lot of old figures! And what's the use of learning to say them? No use at all! It just keeps you from having fun outdoors and makes your head ache. Haug the times table!

Not being able to do just this, Bobbie did the next best thing. He threw the book at Duke. Duke must have been on the watch for some such move as this, for he dodged. When Bobbie

"Two times six are twelve," was at school, Duke would curl up on the rug and shut both eyes. But when Bobbie was at home Duke lay with his nose on his paws and one eye open. Isn't it queer how suspicious a dog can be?

Bobbie was thinking of these things when Uncle Tom came in. Uncle Tom always sees so much more than other folks. He saw the book lying face up and spread out in one corner. Then he looked at Bobbie, who had thrown one leg over the arm of the chair and was very much at his ease.

"What is it?" asked Uncle Tom, picking up the book.

"Times table," answered Bobbie.

"What part?"

"The seven times."

"The very hardest," said Uncle Tom gravely, though his eyes twinkled. "It was weeks and weeks before I could remember that 7 times 8 are 56."

"I've got that," said Bobbie confidently. "It's 7 times 6 that I can't remember."

Then Bobbie told Uncle Tom, who is one of those men who always understand a fellow, what he thought of the times table and of the people who got it up. He wanted to know how it would help him when he had become a daring rover of the seas to know what 7 times 6 was anyway.

"Not the least use in the world," said Uncle Tom—"that is, unless you happen to run into Port Multiplication, which you might do, and a fine city it is to see."

"Port Multiplication?" echoed Bobbie.

"Yes," said Uncle Tom. "It's the capital city of the Land of Twelve Times Twelve."

"Why, I never heard of it," said Bobbie.

"Haven't got far in geography, have you?"

"No; I've just begun."

"Ah, I thought so," said Uncle Tom quietly.

Now, Uncle Tom has traveled in many parts of the world and has seen so many things that he could fill books in telling about them if he wanted to do so. Bobbie demanded to be told all about the Land of Twelve Times Twelve.

"I never knew how useful the times table really was," went on Uncle Tom, "until I put into Port Multiplication. I asked a native where there was a good hotel. Now, what do you think he said?"

"What?" asked Bobbie.

"Nothing at all," replied Uncle Tom, "but 5 times 7 are 35 and 2 times 6 are 12."

"But what did he mean?"

"Well, I didn't know just then. I thought he was crazy, but after I had asked two other natives the question I began to think it was I who was crazy. They all said the same thing. Then I noticed that the signs on the buildings were all in figures; so were the names of the streets. I saw a policeman and asked him about the hotel. 'Five times 7 are 35 and 2 times 6 are 12,' said he. Then it occurred to me to try some multiplication on him."

"What did you say?"

"I said, 'Three times 4 are 12 and 2 times 3 are six.' He answered by saying, 'Four times 6 are 24.' Then I made my mistake. Said I, shaking my fist at nothing in particular and trying to appear very bold, 'Nine times 8 are 76.' I thought I would show him what I knew about the last part of the times table. But I was wrong. Nine times 8 are not 76. He arrested me on the spot."

"Arrested you?"

"Yes," said Uncle Tom; "took me right off to court. My, but you should have heard that judge talk! Didn't he know a lot, though! He began with the little figures like 6 times 7, but he kept going higher and higher until once he got up as far as 113 times 128, and after he was once started he didn't drop lower than the 11 times even for a second."

"But didn't he say anything except figures?" asked Bobbie.

"Not a word. It seems that in the Land of Twelve Times Twelve the times table is the only language they speak. When I found that out, you may be sure I didn't try to fool him with my multiplication. I just talked English. So they sent out for an interpreter—a man who knows how to talk in all kinds of ways, you know—and he told me I had been arrested for treason, which is a very serious offense in any country."

"I know," said Bobbie. "That's what Benedict Andre did. He tried to sell the Hudson river to George Washington, but the British caught him. That was our history lesson one day last month."

"You have a fine memory, Bobbie. Let's see—they shot him first and then put him in prison for life, didn't they?"

"No; they hanged him from Bunker Hill monument. But what did the times table folks do to you, Uncle Tom?"

"Well, when they found out I was a foreigner who only knew the times table up to 12 times 12, and that not very well, they let me off with banishment—that is, they said I must go away and never come back until I could say the times table up to 99 times 99."

"And can you, Uncle Tom?" asked Bobbie in awe.

"No, indeed; but the first thing I did after I got away was to learn it up to 12 times 12, for if there had been no interpreter handy when I made that mistake I might be to this day a slave soldier in the Multiplication army."

"Did those people have an army, Uncle Tom?"

"Of course. They were at war with the state of Division, so I was told. It was a fierce war. One side was being helped by a tribe of savages they called the Vulgar Fractious, while another lot of barbarians known as Decimals were fighting on the other side. Ever hear of them, Bobbie?"

"Nope."

"Well, I don't know much about them, either. But I tell you I was mighty glad to get out of such a country. Since my experiences in Port Multiplication I've never traveled in that part of the world without a ready reckoner in my pocket."

When he was alone again, Bobbie thought it all over. Of course Uncle Tom sometimes told him "made up" stories, but often they were just as he had said. There was the yarn about the country where green parrots and real monkeys lived in the trees, and you could see elephants, just like those in the circus, running about in the woods. Bobbie had not believed a word of all this until his teacher had said it was true.

"And perhaps there may be a place where folks talk nothing but the times table," said Bobbie. "If there is, I might get there some day by mistake, and I might get caught just as Uncle Tom was."

So Bobbie put the book away carefully and said to himself, "Some day, when I feel more like doing it, I will just learn the whole of that old table."

A Minister's Good Work.

"I had a severe attack of bilious colic, got a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, took two doses and was entirely cured," says Rev. A. A. Power of Emporia, Kan. "My neighbor across the street was sick for over a week, had two or three bottles of medicine from the doctor. He used them for three or four days without relief, then called in another doctor who treated him for some days and gave him no relief, so discharged him. I went over to see him the next morning. He said his bowels were in a terrible fix, that they had been running off so long it was almost bloody flux. I asked him if he had tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and he said, 'No.' I went home and brought him my bottle and gave him one dose; told him to take another dose in fifteen or twenty minutes if he did not find relief, but he took no more and was entirely cured. I think it the best medicine I have ever tried." For sale by People's drug store and King's pharmacy.

Loses $700 by Courtship.

La Porte, Ind., Aug. 17.—H. J. Patten, who says that his home is near Bay City, Mich., was here today in search of a woman who gave her name to him as Mrs. Mary Miller. Patten met the woman at Rochester, in this state, and the couple became betrothed. Mrs. Miller represented to Patten that she was the owner of valuable realty in Chicago on which there was an incumbrance of $700. Patten advanced the money to raise the mortgage, and today in this city was the appointed time for the solemnizing of the wedding. Patten learned when he arrived here the woman has a husband living near La Grange, Ind.

Bank Defaulter Dead.

Nashua, N. H., Aug. 17.—A letter received from Asuncion, Paraguay, announced the death there of Frank A. McKean, ex-mayor of Nashua, and former cashier of the Indian Head National bank of this city. The cause of death was not given. McKean fled from Nashua in 1893 because of a shortage of about $100,000 in the finances of the bank. He had resided in South America since that time.

Roosevelt Returns Home.

New York, Aug. 17.—Vice-President Roosevelt has returned to the city from the west. He went at once to Roosevelt hospital, where his eldest daughter, Alice, is a patient, an abscess having been removed from her cheek yesterday. The vice-president remained at the hospital over night.

Will Probe Cotton Diseases.

Washington, Aug. 17.—Dr. B. M. Duggar, physiologist in the vegetable pathology investigations of the department of agriculture, has been ordered to proceed to points in North and South Carolina, Texas, Mississippi and other states to investigate diseases of the cotton and other plants.

Happy Motherhood.

Motherhood ought always to bring happiness. But it is often the beginning of life-long unhappiness. As a preparation for motherhood, and as a preventive of the ills so often following maternity Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been hailed as a "God-send to women." It heals diseases peculiar to women, tones up the system, makes motherhood practically painless, and establishes the sound health which insures healthy children.

"During the past year I found myself pregnant and in rapidly failing health," writes Mrs. W. J. Kiddle, of Hill Dale Farm, (Enosburg Center), Enosburg, Vt. "I suffered dreadfully from bloating and urinary difficulty. I was growing perceptibly weaker each day and suffered much sharp pain at times. I felt that something must be done. I sought your advice and received a prompt reply. I took twelve bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and also followed your instructions. I began to improve immediately, my health became excellent, and I could do all my own work (we live on a good sized farm). I walked and rode all I could, and enjoyed it. I had a short easy confinement and have a healthy baby boy."

LEAD ON HYPNOTISM.

Will Hypnotize Man to Determine Degree of His Deafness.

The use of hypnotism as a means of legal investigation has just been sanctioned by the Ghent court of appeals in regard to a case known as the "Borremans trial," which it was found impossible to elucidate by means of ordinary evidence. It appears that in the course of certain celebrations held at Alost in June, 1899, M. W. Borremans, a merchant of that town, was seriously injured, and as a result upward of twenty arrests were made. Four of the defendants were fined and one condemned to two months' imprisonment, while damages were awarded to the plaintiff. An appeal was subsequently made on behalf of defendants, and a new trial has been in progress for some time past. One of the principal points put forward by M. Borremans was that as a result of the attack made upon him, he suffered from deafness. Medical examination having failed to give satisfactory evidence as to the degree of deafness from which he suffered, its cause, or the probability of curing it, three experts who had charge of the case, and among whom is a professor of Ghent university, submitted that in order to elucidate these points they should hypnotize M. Borremans. The latter having given his consent, the court has just sanctioned the carrying out of the proposal. This is the first time in Belgium that the use of hypnotism has been sanctioned for judicial purposes. The result is awaited with considerable interest.

Pope's Opinion of Woman's Clothes.
The Pope has recently manifested a preference in regard to ladies' apparel over and above the strict regulation in regard to ladies who are received by the holy father at the Vatican. A niece of the pope was about to be married, and her distinguished relative took so great an interest in her trousseau as to stipulate that the young lady should only have white, blue or black gowns, adding that these were the three colors most becoming to young girls. "Gray and brown," remarked his holiness, "are only suitable for old women, and I do not like any other color." Possibly the pope prescribed white because it is the symbol of purity, blue because it is the color dedicated to the Virgin Mary, and black because it is the time-honored hue of dress for outdoor wear for Spain and Italy.—Fall Mail Gazette.

Reading the Latest Books.
Many people read books simply that they may keep up to date in literature. It is part of their capital in society. Most of these buy liberally. Plenty of readers are to be found whose book bills for novels run $100 to $150 a year steadily.

Do You Think a Dollar Saved is a Dollar Earned

We are getting lots of people that do think so, come, buy, and go away satisfied—it makes us customers.

ZIEGLER.

The store that sells the best without the fancy prices.

We still keep our lines complete on thin, cool goods, negligee shirts, the new things in straw hats flannel coats and pants, serge coats, linen pants, linen suits, children's wash suits, etc.

Late in the season we made purchases of these goods below value, so we offer even this late in the season big lines to select from as well as greatly reduced prices. Our reductions on light colored suits cannot fail to interest any buyer. Prices cut deep.

We make a specialty of black clothing of all kinds. A splendid line of children's shirt waists, with and without collars. A new line of 50 cent neckwear 25 cents, just in. A good line of bathing suits.

Your money Back if you want it.

ZIEGLER.

If you buy from us you don't have to be a judge.

Now About The Cost

BY using cold water in place of oil in mixing our Cold Water Paints you save considerable expense. The cost is 9c per lb. for white and 13c for colored paints. Not expensive

BARGAIN DAYS

AT SPENCER'S.

August, with us must go on record as the biggest month of all the year, — in point of sales. From now until the arrival of our Fall Shoes, every day will be a record breaker, if prices count for anything.

Broken Sizes in Every Line and all seasonable goods at that; all to be closed out. For the little Miss you can find a variety from 90c to $1.25. And for the "manly" little boy—just like papa's—we have a big variety from $1.10 to 1.45. For women and for men our range is so immense it would be impossible to convey here an adequate idea without showing you the many styles. From 1.25 to 3.00 to $3.50 the prices run and they include everything to-day that brings comfort and style to your feet. Get in the right place.
